

Adain Avion: mobile art space, social sculpture and travelling time capsule.

Adain Avion is part of the UK-wide London 2012 Festival and is Wales' major contribution to the Cultural Olympiad, the largest cultural celebration in the history of the modern Olympic and Paralympic Movements.

The transformed fuselage of a DC09 aeroplane will migrate across Wales igniting the imagination with an exciting collection of cultural and sporting activity curated by Welsh artist Marc Rees.

Over three weeks Adain Avion visits Swansea, Ebbw Vale and Llandudno presenting over 150 different events before ending its journey at the National Eisteddfod of Wales in Llandow, Vale of Glamorgan. Finally the fuselage will visit the National History Museum at St Fagans, Cardiff where the contemporary folk archive of all activities will be deposited via Adain Avion's black box.

Sunday 24 June

16.00

The Arrival, National Waterfront Museum, Swansea

Witness an extraordinary physical feat, the plane being pulled for the very first time! Members of the local sporting fraternity will haul it ceremoniously to its nesting site between the National Waterfront Museum and the LC accompanied by the Adain Avion Anthem.

Get Involved

An opportunity for everyone to gather memories or pack up some images, and stow them in a virtual suitcase in the Adain Avion Archive. Whether you're a group, a family, friends, a school, a college or an individual you can deposit your ideas in the hold for others to see. Look out for the AA Left Luggage pages on the website that offer you ways of using the work of the Adain Avion artists as a guide to exploring your own, seemingly ordinary patch as it is made extraordinary by your questioning and looking, remembering and recording.

Guerilla Restoration, Catrin James

Many of the post war buildings in Swansea have architectural design features that have been wholly neglected and ignored. Catrin James will select certain details to subtly renovate. These mini refurbishments will be documented and presented as a video installation aboard the plane.

Bodies in Urban Spaces, Willi Dorner

A moving, performing trail leads the audience through unseen and re-discovered spaces, encouraging them to reflect on their urban surroundings. As bodies are temporarily squeezed, arranged, balanced and rearranged along the route, the rules and restrictions of the urban environment are explored and perceived in a unique way - on the run! The trail incorporates Dyffaty Flats, High St, Castle Square and finishes in, on and around the plane in a spectacular fashion!

Pre booking essential B
