at National Slate Museum.

Purpose of role: to encourage families to participate and play with traditional toys and games. The National Slate Museum is sited in the Victorian workshops built in the shadow of Elidir Mountain, site of the vast Dinorwig quarry. Here you can travel into the past of an industry and a way of life that has chiseled itself into the very being of this country. We are looking for volunteers to help bring this history to life.

Location: National Slate Museum, Llanberis

Department: Learning

Age: 16+

The role would suit you if:

- You're willing to get involved
- Enjoy helping others to learn and explore
- You're able to speak Welsh and English
- You're looking for something ad-hoc or during school holidays.

Interested? Fill out a registration form or contact us on volunteering@museumwales.ac.uk or phone (029) 2057 3002.

Considerations: Volunteers need to be able to hold a conversation in Welsh for this role. This role is not accessible for wheelchairs due to the nature of the historic building. Volunteers will receive training as part of the role.

Hours and Commitment: Ideally, we are seeking volunteers who are available between 1pm- 4pm once to twice a week. This role is only available during school holidays (excluding Christmas).

What we do for our volunteers:

- We offer travel expenses
- Discounts in our shops and cafés
- We offer references on request
- We also have celebration events, behind the scene access, and a chance for you to meet new people.
