Introduction

The Public Sector Equality Duties as set out in the Equality Act 2010 (Statutory Duties) (Wales) Regulations 2011 requires public bodies to publish their Gender pay gap information In Wales by the 31 March, this has previously provided a good benchmark data point for Amgueddfa Cymru. The 5th April is used for private, voluntary, all other public authority employers and Welsh Sponsored Bodies and as such this year's data snapshot is taken at the 5th April 2022 for publishing by 4th April 2023.

The published data in this report includes the required information on the mean and median gender gaps in hourly pay, and the proportions of male and female employees in each pay quartile.

The mean and median gender gaps and the proportion of men and women who received bonus pay are not applicable, as no bonus payments have been made in Amgueddfa Cymru.

The gender pay gap shows the difference in the average pay between all men and women in an organisation. It is different to equal pay, which examines the pay differences between men and women who carry out the same or similar jobs, or work of equal value. It is unlawful to pay people unequally because they are a man or a woman.

The gender pay gap provides a measure of labour market or workplace disadvantage, expressed in terms of a comparison between men's and women's average hourly rates of pay. So, while it is about pay, it's also about other factors, such as occupational segregation, or the fact that in the main it has been women who look after children and other dependants.

At Amgueddfa Cymru, our people are important to us. It is a place that seeks to inspire people through our museums and collections, to find a sense of well-being and identity, to discover, enjoy and learn bilingually, and to understand Wales's place in the wider world. Amgueddfa Cymru is fully committed to a diverse and inclusive culture that supports the fair treatment and reward of all colleagues, irrespective of gender. Our pay framework is based on the principles of fairness, transparency, and consistency. We feel it is important that we create a great place for all to work and that we can attract, recruit and retain the right talent with the wide range of knowledge, skills and the capabilities and ensure diversity is represented throughout our workforce.

This report fulfils our reporting requirements and sets out what we are doing to address the gender pay gap in our organisation. The data is based on a snapshot of all employees as of 5th April 2022. The calculations used is set out in the relevant legislation to ensure the data is calculated consistently across all organisations.

It is pleasing to see the work in addressing gender inequality is resulting in positive improvements year on year. In 2021/22 we have seen more women recruited in the third and upper quartile which has positively influenced the resulting data. This has been achieved through the recruitment work to improve a diverse candidate base and changes to our systems to remove identifiers and potentially remove any bias.

8. Actions to Remove the Gender Pay Gap

Amgueddfa Cymru is committed to addressing our gender pay gap and is undertaking a wide range of actions to continue to reduce this. During the period of 2021-22, significant progress was made in the following areas:

- Senior management recruitment attracted more females and resulted in increased recruitment of females at a senior level
- Continued development of our recruitment and selection practices in order to attract a diverse range of applicants and removing barriers
- Review of flexible working practices to support those with caring responsibilities
- Continued development of the network of mental health first aiders in the workplace
- We have published our 4-year Strategic Equality objectives which outlines the actions we will take to reduce the gender pay gap and increase the diversity of our workforce.

Going forward, in 2023-24 we will continue to build on this progress by focussing on:

- Recruitment practices to continue to promote diversity in our candidate base
- Monitor exit rates to identify any potential issues and trends
- Support hybrid working and flexible working practices and monitor potential impact on progression
- Deliver training on equity and potential areas of bias
- Review our policies to ensure they are as accessible, inclusive and as engaging as possible
- Continue to roll out the equality, diversity, and employment law training for all managers
- Finalise our Job Evaluation system to allow us to monitor equal pay
- Working closely with other members of the Wales Public Body Equality Partnership to increase workforce diversity and eliminate pay gaps, as outlined in our Shared Strategic Equality Objectives.

I, Peter Holt, Chief Operating Officer and Accounting Officer, confirm that the information in this statement is accurate.
